Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of New York City Mission Society, which comprise the balance sheet as of June 30, 2016, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of New York City Mission Society as of June 30, 2016, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Report on Summarized Comparative Information

We have previously audited New York City Mission Society's June 30, 2015 financial statements, and we expressed an unmodified audit opinion on those audited financial statements in our report dated January 20, 2016. In our opinion, the summarized comparative information presented herein as of and for the year ended June 30, 2015 is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements from which it has been derived.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 - NATURE OF ENTITY

New York City Mission Society (the "Society") operates as a not-for-profit voluntary health and welfare organization. Since 1812, the Society has changed the lives of New Yorkers in need. The organization serves over 10,000 people annually. A leader in the human services field, the Society assists children and families in acquiring the knowledge, skills and access to resources that enhance the quality of their lives. The Society does this in the context of love and kindness while providing programs through the following service strategies: education, prevention, personal growth and development, and arts and recreation. The Society is supported primarily by grants from government agencies, investment income, and contributions.

The Society is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Society is also exempt from New York State and New York City income and sales taxes.

NOTE 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of presentation - The financial statements of the Society have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Use of estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fees and other receivables - Fees and other receivables from government agencies, camp and program fees, occupancy and other sources of income are recorded when services are rendered or qualifying expenses are incurred.

Allowance for doubtful accounts - The Society has determined that no allowance for uncollectible accounts for fees and other receivables is necessary as of June 30, 2016. Such an estimate is based on management's assessments of the aged basis of its receivables, as well as current economic conditions, historical information, and subsequent cash receipts.

Investments - Investments in securities are reported at fair value. Investment transactions are recorded on a trade-date basis and gains and losses on the sale of the investments are calculated using the average cost method. Investment income and net gains or losses on investments are recognized as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is temporarily or permanently restricted by donor stipulations.

The Society uses a spending rate to allocate a portion of investment proceeds to operations. The proceeds that can be spent annually for operations are between 5% and 7%, as needed, of the average fair value of pooled investments as of March 31st of the preceding year, and are reported as operating revenues.

The Society invests in various types of investment securities. Investment securities, in general, are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, credit, and overall market volatility risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term, based on the markets' fluctuations, and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the Society's financial statements.

Beneficial interest in perpetual trust - The beneficial interest in a perpetual trust is carried at fair value.

Fair Value Measurements

Fair Value Measurements establishes a framework for measuring fair value. The framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are described below. Level 1 inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Society has the ability to access. Level 2 inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability. Level 3 inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement. The asset or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

The following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used at June 30, 2016 as compared to those used at June 30, 2015.

Mutual funds - Valued at the net asset value (NAV) of the shares held by the Society.

Alternative investments - limited liability partnerships, hedge fund and private comingled funds - Investments in the alternative investments companies are valued at the NAV of shares at year end as determined by asset managers.

Beneficial interest in perpetual trust - Valued using the fair value of the underlying assets held by the trust.

The following table sets forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the assets at fair value as of June 30, 2016:

Limited liability partnerships - The investment objective of the funds is to seek long-term capital appreciation with reduced volatility by allocating its capital among various money managers that, as a group, employ a variety of investment techniques and strategies.

Hedge Fund - The investment objective of the fund is to provide value enhancement as well as a partial inflation hedge, with an attractive risk/return profile as compared to other products using a commodity index or pool of commodities.

Comingled Private Fund - (a) The fund seeks to construct a portfolio that reflects the greatest relative investment potential for a given level of risk. (b) The fund seeks to preserve capital while producing attractive absolute returns.

Fixed assets - Items with a cost of $1,000 or more and an estimated useful life of greater than one year are subject to capitalization and are recorded at cost. Fixed assets are carried at cost, net of accumulated depreciation. Depreciation of buildings, building improvements and equipment is provided on the straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives of the assets.

Net asset classifications - Unrestricted net assets are funds that have not been restricted as to use or purpose by donors. Temporarily restricted net assets are those whose use has been limited by donors to a specific time period or purpose. Permanently restricted net assets contain donor-imposed restrictions that stipulate that the resources are to be maintained permanently, but permit the Society to use or expend part or all of the income derived from the resources for either specified or unspecified purposes. Permanently restricted net assets also include the Society's beneficial interest in a perpetual trust.

Contributions - Unconditional contributions, legacies and bequests and grants, including promises to give and other assets, are recorded at fair value at the date the contribution is received. Conditional contributions are recognized as revenue when the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met. The Society records contributions received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets as temporarily or permanently restricted support. When the donor restrictions expire, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Donor-restricted contributions whose restrictions are met within the same year as received are reflected as unrestricted contributions in the accompanying financial statements.

Grants from government agencies - Revenues from government agencies are recognized when earned and are subject to audit by the agencies. Expense-based grants are recognized as allowable expenses are incurred. Performance-based grants are recognized as milestones are achieved. No provisions for any disallowances are reflected in the financial statements, since management does not anticipate any material adjustments.

Occupancy income - Occupancy income is recognized based upon tenant leases, which are cancelable by the Society.

Measure of operations - The Society excludes investment income in excess of the amount designated for operations per the spending policy adopted by the Society, gain on sale of The United Charities, gain on beneficial interest in perpetual trust and pension adjustment.

Rent expense - The Society recognizes rent expense on the straight-line basis. Deferred rent is reported when material.

In-kind contributions - Represents the value of donated services estimated based upon the average value of services performed. Revenues and expenses are reflected in these financial statements, since the services provided meet the criteria for recognition under generally accepted accounting principles. Donated services consist of legal services.

Functional allocation of expenses - The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited.

Summarized prior-year information - The financial statements include certain prior-year summarized comparative information in total but not by net asset class. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with the organization's financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2015, from which the summarized information was derived.

Reclassification - Since program services were restructured in 2016, the 2015 amounts have been updated to conform to the 2016 presentation. Additionally, certain 2015 Level 1 investments were reclassified in 2016 as Level 3.

Uncertainty in income taxes - The Society has determined that there are no material uncertain tax positions that require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements. Periods ending June 30, 2013 and subsequent remain subject to examination by applicable taxing authorities.

Subsequent events - Subsequent events have been evaluated through March 3, 2017, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued. The Society amended its defined benefit pension plan in September 2016, see Note 4.

NOTE 3 - INVESTMENT IN THE UNITED CHARITIES

The Society had a 25% undivided interest in The United Charities, a not-for-profit corporation organized to provide a center in which benevolent institutions can have their headquarters. By resolution at its June 4, 2014 meeting, the Board of Directors of the Society authorized the representatives of the Board of The United Charities to vote in favor of the sale of the United Charities Building. The sale was consummated on August 26, 2014. In connection with the sale, the Society received distributions of $31,387,766. At June 30, 2015, $500,000 were being held in escrow pending final distribution. As of June 30, 2016, the final distribution of $500,000 was received.

The Society is responsible for reporting to various government granting agencies. Besides these parties, the New York State Office of the Attorney General and the Internal Revenue Service also have the right to audit the Society.

The Society is subject to lawsuits, investigations and disputes (some of which involve substantial amounts claimed) arising out of the conduct of the organization or other third parties in the normal and ordinary course of business. A liability is recognized for any contingency that is probable of occurrence and reasonably estimable. The Society continually assesses the likelihood of adverse judgments or outcomes in these matters, as well as potential ranges of possible losses (taking into consideration insurance coverage as well as recoveries), based on an analysis of each matter with the assistance of legal counsel and, if applicable, other experts. Potential liabilities are subject to change due to new developments, changes in settlement strategy or the impact of evidentiary requirements.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Board of Directors of the Society has adopted the New York Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (NYPMIFA). NYPMIFA moves away from the "historic dollar value" standard, and permits charities to apply a spending policy to endowments based on certain specified standards of prudence. The Society is now governed by the NYPMIFA spending policy, which establishes a standard maximum prudent spending limit of 7% of the average of its previous five years' balance. As a result of this interpretation, the Society classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the organization in a manner consistent with the standards of prudence prescribed by NYPMIFA.

Return Objectives, Strategies Employed and Spending Policy

The overall financial objective of the endowment is to maintain the principal endowment funds at the original amount designated by the donor and to generate income to support the Society's programs.

The long-term investment objective for the total endowment is to attain a total return (net of investment management fees) of at least 6% per year in excess of inflation. This objective assumes that withdrawals from the fund will average, long term, no more than 6% of the fund's value over time.

Funds with Deficiencies

The Society does not have any funds with deficiencies.
